REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the School Board and Citizens of Gilsum :

I submit my second annual report as Superintendent of Schools. I wish first to speak of your local school conditions and then to call attention to some of the features of the organization that has been developed to carry out the provisions of the law of 1919.

The scarcity of teachers throughout the school year 1919-1920 was serious. Teachers could be had for city and village schools, though not all of these were well qualified, but in many cases none could be found for schools remote from railroad stations or villages. Your own experience outside of the village school was but an illustration of the seriousness of the shortage of teachers. In the spring it was apparent that there would still be an insufficient number of trained teachers for the fall and an opportunity was offered to girls who had graduated from high school to get six weeks of training at the summer school and enter teaching in the fall. Quite a large number of girls accepted the opportunity and you have one of them in the Belvidere school this year. We recognize the fact that these girls have had but little training and no previous experience, and we must cooperate with this teacher in a spirit of helpfulness and kindly guidance; she is doing well in spite of her lack of training and experience.

The lack of teachers now is not serious but the situation has not by any means returned to normal. Increased salaries for teachers and a decrease in the demand for women in other occupations has turned the tide and we may hope for more available candidates for vacancies in the summer, but we cannot anticipate lower salaries.

The Village school is an illustration of what can be done when good teachers can be held year after year. The spirit of the school, the progress of the children in their work and their growth in other ways as well, is gratifying. The success of those who graduate in entering other schools further attests the good work of your school. In the other schools the year was so broken by change of teachers and by the severity of the winter that the progress of the children was not satisfactory. We have had one change in teachers this year, but the school was not closed for long and we have secured an experienced woman in place of one without experience. We anticipate much better results at the end of the year than last year.

The improvements at the Village school have given the children the advantage of well lighted and very pleasant rooms with good toilet facilities, and this building is in excellent condition. Not only have the requirements of the State Board been met, but just such a plan of school improvement has been carried out here as the board is advising every town to undertake as soon as possible. There are some other things to be desired, such as a better floor and better desks, but you have done all that could be asked in one year. Besides this, some repairs have been made at the West school which have improved conditions there a great deal, although the requirements are not fully met in respect to lighting and outhouse. At the Belvidere school also the lighting is not adequate and the outhouse is poor. Provisions should be made at the coming March meeting for the necessary work on these two buildings, and as soon as may be practicable more extensive improvements should be made than are now required to meet the standards of the State Board. Such a plan should include some provisions for work in agriculture, carpentry, and cooking and sewing, in all schools.

The question has been raised as to whether the grammar school course could be extended so as to provide another year's work for the children before going away to school. I believe this is a matter that should be considered at the March meeting. I see no reason why this could not be done, either by the addition of a ninth grade which should offer so far as possible the usual studies of the first year of high school, or by organizing the seventh and eighth grades as a Junior High School with an additional year. But this additional year could not be considered as a part of the "required elementary schools" in the terms of the law, and consequently the additional expense would have to be borne by the taxpayers without state aid.

For an extended discussion of the working of the new school law I must refer you to the biennial report of the State Board of Education, but for the benefit of many to whom that report is not available I will summarize some of the most important features. The State Board has authority under the law to "make such rules and regulations as may seem desirable to secure the efficient administration of the public schools," and the law further provides that "it shall be the duty of school boards and employees of the districts to comply with the rules and regulations of the state board." Accordingly such rules and regulations have been prescribed and the most important among them are in substance as follows :

1. The School Board shall elect the teachers upon the recommendation of the superintendent and fix their salaries; employ janitors and other necessary employees; authorize purchases; prepare a budget of expenditures and, in state-aided districts, keep accounts in a prescribed manner; hold meetings as often as once in two months, require the superintendent to be present, and keep record of the transactions; perform all other duties not specifically committed to the superintendent; and upon recommendation of the superintendent determine the subjects of instruction.

2. The Superintendent shall be nominated by the joint board of the union and employed by the state board and he shall give his entire time to the performance of his duties ; he shall enforce the rules and regulations of the school board and of the state board and the laws relating to school attendance and employment of children, reporting violations of these and other laws affecting the welfare of children to the proper officers ; he shall direct and supervise the work of the teachers and janitors and have the necessary authority to make such direction effective ; nominate all teachers ; select and purchase textbooks and supplies in accordance with the rules of the school board and of the state board ; keep records and make reports of his doings ; remove any teacher or other employee found to be immoral or incompetent, subject to the law provided for such cases ; provide for temporary vacancies, and secure fuel and other supplies immediately necessary if the school board fails to do so ; admit pupils to school in accordance with the laws of the state and the rules of the state board, assign them to classes and grades, and promote them in accordance with their attainments.

3. The Programs of Study prepared by the state board are accepted and approved, and a standard school shall be equipped with books, supplies and apparatus sufficient to perform the work outlined in them. Regulations have been set for the required subjects and minimum requirements in the first three grades and are in preparation for the next three grades.

4. Health and Physical Welfare. Every district shall employ a school physician who shall make at least one annual examination of the pupils, report defects found to the parents, and with the teachers and superintendent labor to secure remedial treatment. The superintendent shall see that physical exercises and drill have a place in the school program, and he shall examine school buildings and surroundings, recommend to the school board such changes as are needed, and if unable to make such recommendation effective he shall report to the Commissioner of Education and to the State Board of Health.

5. Shortened School Year. The law prescribes that all schools shall be maintained for at least thirty-six weeks in each year, but it also provides that special permission may be given by the state board on application from the school board of the district to reduce the number of weeks. Unless such permission is given "it is then the duty of the Commissioner, if any school board should fail in its duty, to direct the superintendent in charge to continue the schools. The expenditures may be paid from the funds of the State Board of Education and reimbursement for moneys so advanced by the State Board must be provided for by the district at a special meeting or at its next annual meeting." (This regulation was adopted July 20, 1920.)

The distribution of the Equalization Fund is made by the State Board, on the basis of carefully prepared budgets of proposed expenditures submitted by the School Boards and Superintendents, and in accordance with certain established principles in order to assure a fair and impartial apportionment. In general, the expenditures proposed are considered on the basis of the average requirements of the state and of the expenditures which each district had made in previous years. The amounts allowed by the State Board under each item of the budget in your district is shown in the financial statements following this report. State aid is not given for the "overhead" expenses of the district, but only for "maintenance" of the required elementary schools, including expenses of instruction, expenses of operating school plants, minor repairs and expenses, medical inspection, transportation, and elementary tuition.

In closing, I would express my appreciation of the uniform cooperation and consideration given me in my work and wherever I have come in contact with the school board and citizens.

Respectfully,

VERNON S. AMES.

Marlboro, N. H., January 31, 1921.
